I. PURPOSE

This report explains North San Joaquin Water Conservation District's (District) proposed groundwater charge, including background information on the District, a description of groundwater conditions in and around the District, an overview of the requirements of the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act (SGMA), and a summary of the projects the District proposes to complete and operate with funds generated from the proposed groundwater charge.

II. PROPOSED GROUNDWATER CHARGE

The District proposes to impose a groundwater charge on each acre-foot (AF) of groundwater pumped by every parcel within the District's groundwater sustainability agency, except those very small rural residential parcels considered de minimus pumpers. The proposed charge is a maximum of $15 per AF per year for the first two years, $20 per AF per year for the next two years, and $25 per AF per year thereafter.

The District will estimate the amount of groundwater pumped by each parcel based on the parcel's land use, as described in Appendix A. Landowners can request a modification of this determination using the appeal process described in Appendix B.

The amount of the proposed charge for each parcel, at $15 per af, $20 per af and $25 per af is set forth in Appendix C. If the District imposes the charge for 2022, it would be set at the $15 per af amount and be included in property tax bills mailed by the San Joaquin County Assessor in fall 2022.

The District will complete the final list of charges per parcel by June 30th of each year. The San Joaquin County tax assessor will collect charges through property tax bills.

The District may only use revenue from this groundwater charge to fund the groundwater sustainability activities as described in this report which benefit all groundwater users in the District, and for no other purpose. The District's locally elected Board of Directors will set the amount of the charge annually, not to exceed the maximums set forth above. Once the District completes the projects needed to comply with SGMA, the District Board of Directors will set the charge to cover the administrative, operation and maintenance costs of the projects and related SGMA activities, annual SGMA compliance and monitoring costs, and a prudent reserve. The District must impose the groundwater charge to fund the projects required to achieve sustainability and comply with SGMA.

If the District does not secure a funding source to implement the projects it needs to comply with SGMA, the state would declare our area unmanaged or probationary and intervene. Areas that the state declares "unmanaged" or "probationary" are subject to annual fees imposed by the State Water Resources Control Board (State Water Board).

The State Water Boards sets its fees for "unmanaged" and "probationary" areas annually without a vote of the regulated community. The current state fees are set forth below in Figure 2.1. Unlike the proposed District fees, landowners would pay these fees to the state and the funds would not help pay for any local projects or local benefits. Rather, the state fees would be used for state administration, regulation and possible implementation and enforcement of pumping restrictions in our area.

Fee Category	Fee Amount	Applicable Parties
Base Filing Fee	$300 per well	All extractors required to report (excludes de minimis extractors).
Unmanaged Area Rate	$10 per AF (metered) $25 per AF (unmetered)	Extractors in unmanaged areas (excludes de minimis extractors).
Probationary Rate	$40 per AF	Extractors in probationary basins (excludes de minimis extractors).
Interim Plan Rate	$55 per AF	Extractors in probationary basins where the State Water Board determines an interim plan is required (excludes de minimis extractors).
De minimis Fee	$100 per well	De minimis extractors in probationary basins.
Automatic Late Fee	25% per month	Extractors that do not file reports by the due date.

The District is working diligently to avoid a situation where our area would be subject to these State Water Board fees and state regulation. Imposing the District groundwater water charge is a fundamental component of that effort.

III. DISTRICT OVERVIEW

General

The NSJWCD was organized in 1948 as a water conservation district under California Water Code Division 21. The NSJWCD encompasses approximately 150,000 acres generally east of the City of Lodi, including areas within the city limits, and north and south of the Mokelumne River.

A board of five directors governs the NSJWCD. Each Director represents a separate geographical division and is elected to a term of four years by the qualified voters within the division. Regular Board meetings are held monthly and are generally at 2:00 PM on the last Monday of each month.

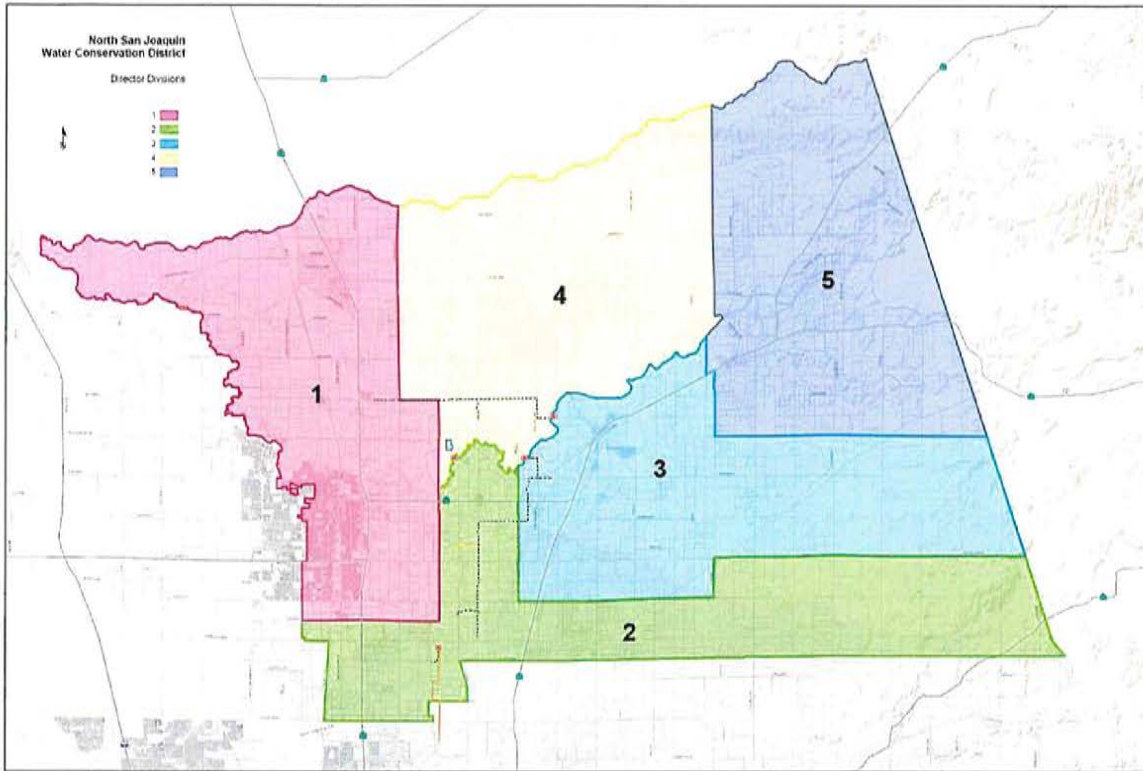

In response to SGMA, the District elected to become a Groundwater Sustainability Agency (GSA). The NSJWCD GSA boundaries include the entire NSJWCD area, less areas served by the City of Lodi and the Lockeford Community Services District. The groundwater charge proposed would not apply in the City of Lodi or Lockeford areas. The NSJWCD GSA area includes approximately 7,500 parcels.

Location

The NSJWCD is situated east and north of the City of Lodi in San Joaquin County in California. The Mokelumne River passes through the middle of the NSJWCD area. NSJWCD overlies the Eastern San Joaquin Groundwater Subbasin as defined in California Department of Water Resources (DWR) Bulletin 118.

History and Water Right

The SWRCB issued Permit 10477 to NSJWCD in 1956 in Water Rights Decision 858 (D-858). Permit 10477 provides for diversion and use of 20,000 acre-feet of water per year from the Mokelumne River in years when water is available under NSJWCD's priority of right.

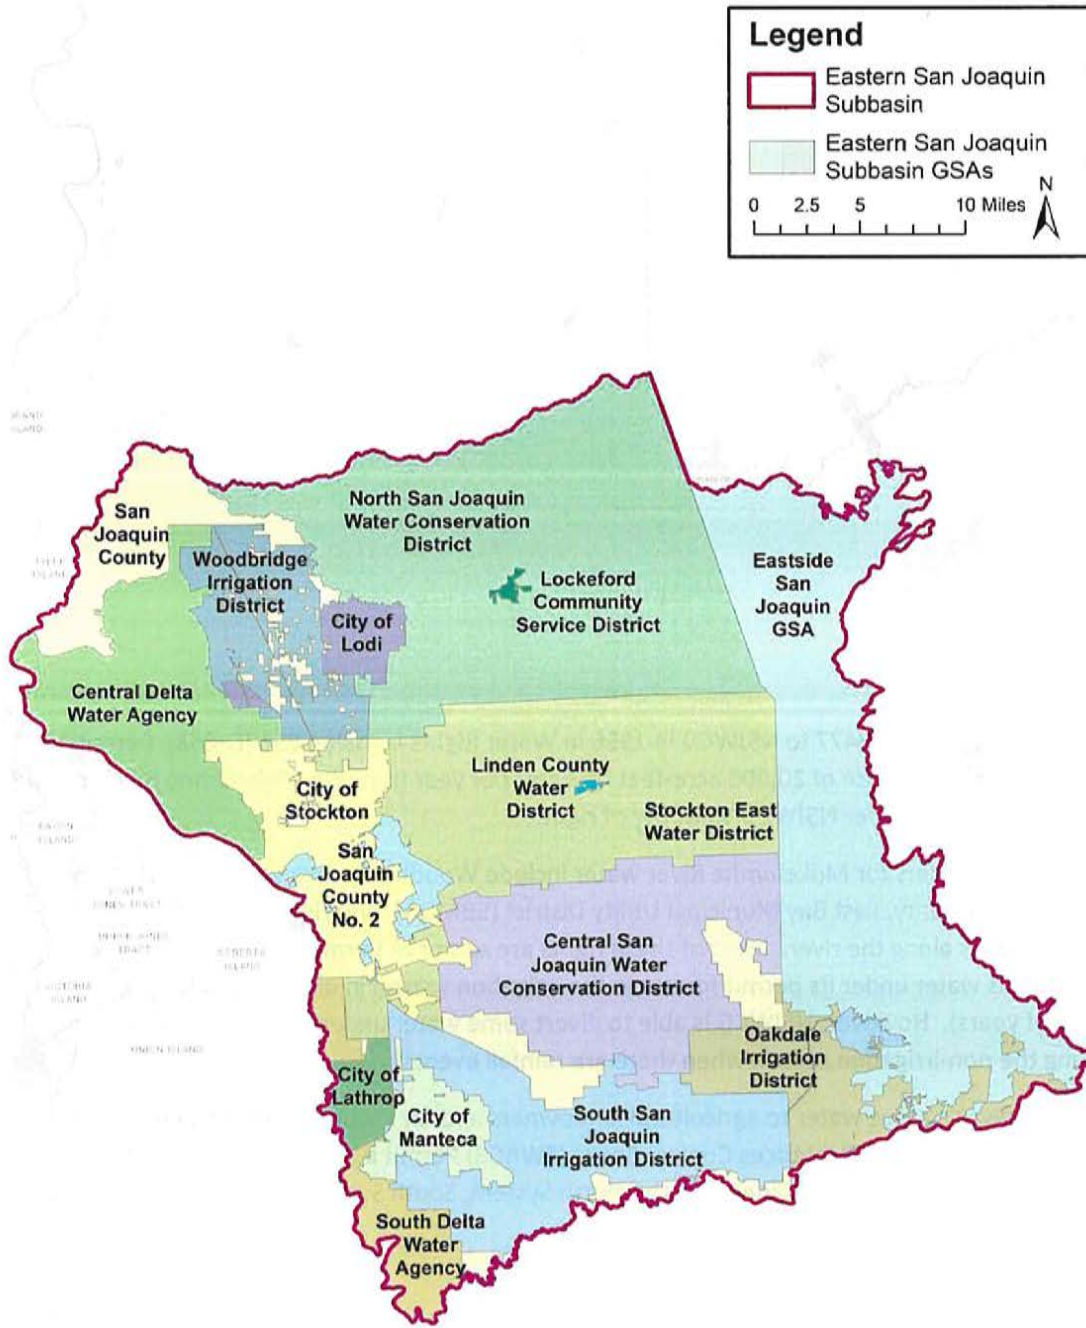

Other water right holders for Mokelumne River water include Woodbridge Irrigation District, Amador County, Calaveras County, East Bay Municipal Utility District (EBMUD), and riparian and pre-1914 appropriative rights along the river. Most of these rights are senior to Permit 10477. As a result, NSJWCD receives water under its permit for use in the irrigation season in only normal to wet years (about 55% of years). However, NSJWCD is able to divert some water under its permit in almost all years during the non-irrigation season when there are rainfall events.

NSJWCD can deliver surface water to agricultural landowners and for groundwater recharge projects, as available, under State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) Permit #10477 through four existing pump station and delivery systems known as the North System, South System, Cal-Fed/Woodbridge System and the Tracy Lake System.

IV. GROUNDWATER CONDITIONS

The ESJ Subbasin is critically overdrafted, meaning that more water has been taken out of the subbasin over time than has been replenished. This has caused groundwater levels to decline over time. Groundwater levels in the District have declined an average of one foot per year for several decades as shown below in Figure 4.2 – Groundwater Levels.

Landowners in NSJWCD use a significant amount of groundwater and a relatively small amount of surface water to meet demands. The following table is a preliminary draft analysis of the average amount of groundwater and surface water used by each agency overlying the ESJ Subbasin, and the net effect on the groundwater system. These numbers are subject to change and refinement and should be considered draft. However, the bottom line is that agricultural pumping for irrigation in NSJWCD, along with landowners in Stockton East Water District (SEWD) and Central San Joaquin Water Conservation District (CSJWCD), have the largest impact on the groundwater basin as shown below in Figure 4.3 – Draft Operational Water Budget By GSA.

The net impact on the groundwater subbasin from the operations of the 16 agencies listed above (363,480 af per year), must be understood and evaluated with additional information. Specifically, the bar chart does not include natural recharge to the subbasin, which is estimated at 347,000 af per year. At this time, the subbasin agencies have not specifically allocated the natural recharge to each agency. Instead, they are looking at the subbasin as a whole to conclude that the operations of all 16 agencies, after accounting for natural recharge, results in an average annual overdraft of approximately 16,500 af per year for the entire subbasin.

This estimate of overdraft is based on modeling and various assumptions with a margin of error and should be viewed with that in mind. Pursuant to the GSP and SGMA requirements, the 16 agencies gather data and prepare an annual report updating the water budget and model. The goal over time is to improve the data and assumptions in the model and implement sufficient projects to reduce and eventually eliminate annual overdraft.

While the specific estimates of overdraft vary, it is clear that the average annual groundwater extractions from the subbasin exceed the annual average recharge, creating conditions of overdraft and continued groundwater level decline.

The sixteen agencies have been working together to develop, fund and implement groundwater recharge projects to correct overdraft and avoid pumping restrictions. It is very important that NSJWCD contributes its fair share to efforts to recharge the subbasin given the significant reliance of landowners in the District on groundwater and the relatively small surface water supplies available to the District.

If NSJWCD, Stockton East Water District (SEWD) and Central San Joaquin Water Conservation District (CSJWCD) each fully utilized their existing, but underutilized, water rights, there is a very high likelihood of eliminating the subbasin overdraft. These three districts are also all looking at opportunities to increase surface water supplies to further aid in the effort to achieve groundwater sustainability.

V. SUSTAINABLE GROUNDWATER MANAGEMENT ACT REQUIREMENTS

In 2014, the California legislature passed the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act, or SGMA. SGMA requires all groundwater basins be sustainably managed to avoid undesirable results, such as subsidence, water quality problems and unreasonable groundwater level decline. SGMA was written to give local agencies, such as the District, the opportunity to develop and implement a plan to achieve sustainability first. If the District fails to develop and implement a plan on the timeline required by the new law, the law provides the state can take over management of the subbasin and impose pumping restrictions, fees and other measures to achieve sustainability.

The District has a strong incentive to carry out a successful plan because state intervention would be extremely expensive for all groundwater users, and likely have significant local economic and social impacts from pumping restrictions.

SGMA required local agencies to elect whether to become a local Groundwater Sustainability Agency (GSA) to comply with SGMA locally. The District elected to become a GSA for all areas of the District not covered by a different GSA. The District GSA covers all of the acres in North San Joaquin Water Conservation District except those acres within the City of Lodi and the Lockeford Community Services District.

The District GSA then worked with the fifteen other agencies that overlie the ESJ Subbasin to develop the Groundwater Sustainability Plan (GSP) required by SGMA. The plan describes the current conditions in the subbasin, establishes thresholds to evaluate when undesirable effects are occurring, and lists the projects that the agencies plan to implement to achieve groundwater sustainability by the year 2040. The plan is available here: <http://www.esjgroundwater.org/Documents/GSP>.

The plan is subject to review and approval by the California Department of Water Resources (DWR). DWR deemed the plan complete but requested the GSAs modify the plan to address three issues prior to final approval. In the meantime, however, the GSAs are required implement the plan and work toward sustainability.

The plan shows if the sixteen GSAs implement the projects described in the GSP, they will eliminate overdraft and achieve groundwater sustainability.

ENGINEER'S REPORTVI. DISTRICT GSP PROJECTS

The District included six projects in the current GSP, which are listed below.

Project	Type	Capital Cost	Annual O&M Cost	Status	Expected Annual Average Benefit
South System Modernization	In-lieu and Direct Groundwater recharge	$ 11 million	$250,000	Progressing in phases as funding is available	5,000 af
South System Groundwater Banking with EBMUD	In-lieu and Direct Groundwater recharge	$7 million	$400,000	DREAM Pilot project operating. Next phases in planning.	4,000 af
North System Modernization/Lakso Recharge	In-lieu and Direct Groundwater recharge	$7 million	$150,000	In planning, pending grant applications to fund project.	2,600 af
Cal Fed/Manassero Recharge Project	Direct Groundwater Recharge	$1 million	$400,000	Planning.	Up to 5,000 af
Tecklenburg Recharge Project	Direct Groundwater Recharge	$1 million	$400,000	Planning. Pending federal appropriations request.	Up to 5,000 af
Winery Recycled Water Project	In-lieu and Direct Groundwater recharge	$3 million	$100,000	Planning.	Up to 1,000 af
Subtotal		$30,000,000	$1,300,000

These projects involve modifying and expanding the District's existing infrastructure and easements, where possible, to allow for both in-lieu groundwater recharge and direct recharge. The specific project locations and details may be adjusted over time based on finding willing landowners for direct recharge projects, but the overall project concepts – to maximize the delivery surface water to recharge groundwater along the district's existing delivery systems – will not.

In-lieu recharge occurs when the District delivers surface water to a farmer to use for irrigation in-lieu of the farmer's use of groundwater. The farmer turns off his groundwater pump when using surface water, reducing total groundwater extraction from the basin. In-lieu recharge is the most cost effective and efficient form of recharge, but it can only be done when water is available during the irrigation season. The District has surface water available during the irrigation season in about 55% of years.

Direct recharge occurs when the District delivers surface water to either a recharge basin or to a dormant vineyard or orchard and floods the area to push the water down through the ground and into the groundwater basin. Direct recharge is less efficient than in-lieu recharge due to losses. However, it can be done year-round. The District has surface water available in at least some months in almost every year. For example, during 2020, 2021 and 2022, the District has not been able to store surface water for use in the irrigation season but has been able to directly divert water from the Mokelumne River during winter storm events for direct recharge.

To maximize the amount of water available for recharge in the District, it is important that the District have both types of projects.

These projects are also included in the District's Strategic Plan, which was formally approved in 2021 and is available here: <https://nsjcd.files.wordpress.com/2022/01/2022-strategic-plan-small.pdf>.

During the last ten years, NSJWCD has also been working diligently on other projects to put the water under Permit 10477 to beneficial use. These include the Cal Fed project, the Tracy Lake Groundwater Recharge Project, the City of Lodi transfer, and the South System Improvement Project. The District has used a combination of landowner funding from improvement districts and grants for these projects.

In 2004 the District received grant funding for the Cal-Fed pump station and groundwater recharge project. This project included installation of a new 15 cfs pump station on the north side of the Mokelumne River and related pipeline infrastructure to divert river water onto nearby bermed fields used as groundwater recharge ponds. The project was operated in 2009, 2010, and 2011. In Fall of 2017, NSJWCD resumed operation of this system for a pilot groundwater recharge project on a 23-acre vineyard. NSJWCD needs additional funding to expand the groundwater recharge options using the Cal Fed diversion site, including potentially forming an improvement district on the north side of the Mokelumne River to enable landowners to fund groundwater recharge efforts that benefit their properties.

In 2011, NSJWCD was awarded a $300,000 federal WaterSmart grant for the Tracy Lake Groundwater Recharge Project. This project was completed in fall of 2015 at a cost of approximately $2.3 million with $2 million coming from a landowner improvement district. The project involved construction of a new 25 cfs pump station on the north side of the Mokelumne River downstream of the Woodbridge Irrigation District diversion dam. The project pumps river water available under Permit 10477 into a natural lake (South Tracy Lake). Some of the water that is pumped into the lake recharges the groundwater basin through percolation, or direct groundwater recharge. The rest of the water that is pumped into the lake is diverted out of the lake by adjacent landowners farming 1,310 acres of irrigated vineyards. By using the river water for irrigation, these 1,310 acres of vineyards are not using a like amount of groundwater, accomplishing in-lieu groundwater recharge.

During the last ten years, NSJWCD has also analyzed the ability to rehabilitate the North distribution system. Limited funds have prevented the District from moving forward with projects on the North System to date. However, the District is currently working on securing a $3.9 million grant for the North System. The District will need local matching funds to put this grant to use.

The District has invested $4 million in the South System in recent years, and is working on another $5 million in grants for the South System. Again, the District will need local matching funds for the new $5 million grant. Existing improvements on the South System include a new pump station, new distribution box at Brandt and Tretheway, new Pixley Pump Station, new Pixley lateral, and SCADA measurement and information system for the South System. The District will use existing grant funds to upgrade the remaining main distribution boxes on the South System main line and a small segment of the pipeline and add metering along the system. Additional funding is needed to improve the remainder of the pipeline and laterals and modify the system so that it can efficiently provide water for both irrigation and groundwater recharge. Landowners along the South System formed improvement district No. 3 to help fund improvements that provide surface water for irrigation. The District needs a funding source, such as the proposed groundwater charge, to fund improvements to the South System for direct groundwater recharge.

VII. WATER AVAILABILITY

The District's water right allows for a maximum diversion of 20,000 AF per year. However, the District has never diverted the full amount even though the full amount has been available to divert in many years. Diversion and use of water under Permit 10477 peaked in 1973 with 9,488 AFA of diversions. Of that 9,488 AF, 8,725 AF were diverted through the South System and 763 AF were diverted through the North System. However, the lack of available water during the drought of the late 1980's and early 1990's combined with widespread conversion to drip irrigation and the increasing cost of operating the older NSJWCD facilities caused landowners along the North and South Systems to stop using the NSJWCD's surface water for irrigation.

In recent years, diversions under Permit 10477 have been only about 3,000 to 5,000 AF per year off the South System, when water is available, about 500 AF per year to the Tracy Lake Groundwater Recharge Project and about 350 AF per year to the Costa Vineyard Recharge Project. The North System is currently inoperable. The lack of water use is due primarily to the condition of the delivery infrastructure and lack of funding for groundwater recharge activities in the non-irrigation season. Also, most farmers who used to use surface water from the District have stopped doing so.

If the District improved its current delivery infrastructure to deliver surface water for irrigation, and constructed planned recharge projects, it could fully utilize the 20,000 AF per year Permit 10477 water right, and more.

The District is working to bring additional surface water to the area from two new sources. The District entered into an agreement with East Bay Municipal Utility District for groundwater banking to bring an additional 8,000 AF per year of water into the District in wet years and lesser amounts in dry years. This banking project is currently operating at a pilot demonstration level. The District, County and EBMUD are working to expand the project to its full potential but need resources to do so.

The District is also working with San Joaquin County on a new water right application to divert water from the Mokelumne River in very wet years for recharge. This application has been pending for many years, but also requires additional resources to move forward.

The following table shows the water available under the District's existing right in recent years, the amount actually diverted and used, and the projected amounts that could be diverted and used by the District if it fully utilized its existing water right, and pursued the additional water supplies described above, with a similar hydrologic sequence of years:

VIII. FINANCING PLAN

The District currently has three funding sources:

1. Property Tax Allocation: The County allocates a small share ($350,000) of property taxes collected from the original 45,000 acres that comprised NSJWCD (but not from the rest of the 150,000 acre district) to NSJWCD. This amount is used to fund basic District administration and some planning. It is insufficient to fund capital projects or operation and maintenance of groundwater recharge projects. More than 100,000 acres of lands within NSJWCD currently pay nothing to the district and have no share of their property taxes allocated to NSJWCD.
2. Improvement District Funds: NSJWCD has three landowner formed improvement districts. These funds are limited to the specific projects of these improvement districts and cannot be used for other projects or for district-wide groundwater recharge benefits:
 - a. Improvement District No. 1. This is the Tracy Lake landowners comprising about 1,311 acres. They pay a $240 per acre per year assessment for capital costs ($1,600,000 total) and also pay an annual O&M assessment that changes every year based on needs, but is typically about $20/acre per year.

- b. Improvement District No. 3. This is the South System Surface Water User landowners comprising about 2,000 acres. They pay a $50/acre per year assessment for capital costs (for 15 years) and also pay water charges of $50/af for delivered surface water to cover O&M.
 - c. Improvement District No. 3A. This is the Pixley Lateral landowners comprising about 410 acres of the ID No. 3 landowners, who are along a new lateral off of Pixley Slough. These landowners pay an additional $25/acre for 10 years for the capital improvements for the Pixley lateral that serves their properties, as well as O&M charges as needed to cover O&M expenses for that facility.
3. Grant/Outside Funding: NSJWCD received approximately $2 million from EBMUD in recent years as part of a water rights protest dismissal agreement and cooperative demonstration groundwater banking project. This money was put toward the costs of rebuilding the South Pump Station and building the DREAM project pipeline and related facilities. NSJWCD has also received state and federal grants totaling $3.6 million in recent years. The EBMUD funding, and the improvement district landowner funding provided the required "local match" for these state and federal grants.

Currently, none of the lands in NSJWCD pay a fee, charge or assessment for groundwater management or recharge activities or projects that benefit the District as a whole and the groundwater basin.

The District has applied for additional grant funds to pay for its SGMA projects. Specifically, the District has applications pending for $8 million in grant funding for groundwater recharge improvements to the North and South Systems which the District expects to be awarded within the next 3 to 6 months. However, the District currently does not have the required local matching funds for these grants. The proposed groundwater charge would provide the required matching funds.

The District is also working to expand or form new improvement districts for landowners who plan to use surface water for irrigation. These landowners will contribute additional capital and operation and maintenance costs to cover their fair share of facilities used to deliver surface water for irrigation.

The District's proposed average annual budget, with the groundwater charge and grant funding, is set forth below. This budget does not include the revenue and expense associated with improvements districts for delivery of surface water for irrigation. Rather, this budget represents the groundwater management activities funded by the new groundwater charge.

The groundwater management activities funded by the new charge would benefit all groundwater users in the District by reducing groundwater demand, adding additional supplies to the groundwater subbasin, improving the overall water balance in the District, helping to stabilize groundwater levels, and funding activities to achieve groundwater sustainability consistent with SGMA to prevent state intervention.

The specific allocation of funds between activities such as seeking grant funding, planning, pursuing additional water supplies, SGMA monitoring and reporting, project planning and construction, project operations, project maintenance, and associated administration of these various actions, may vary from year to year in the discretion of the board of directors to meet the purpose for which the charge was imposed. However, at all times the revenue from the groundwater charge must be used for groundwater sustainability and management activities that proportionately benefit all groundwater users in the District.

Appendix A - Groundwater Pumping by Land Use

The North San Joaquin Water Conservation District ("District") includes about 14,000 parcels covering 150,000 acres, including many smaller parcels that receive water from the City of Lodi (Lodi) and Lockeford Community Services District (LCSD). The North San Joaquin Water Conservation District Groundwater Sustainability Agency ("District GSA") is smaller than the District and excludes the parcels within the City of Lodi and LCSD. The District's proposed groundwater charge only applies to parcels in the District GSA, which includes about 7,652 parcels.

The District must estimate the amount of groundwater each parcel uses to propose a groundwater charge because the District does not require individual parcel owners to meter and report groundwater use. The District estimates groundwater use for the purpose of the proposed groundwater charge using the following process:

Step 1: Identify Property Land Use

The San Joaquin County Tax Assessor assigns a use code for each parcel based on parcel land use. Use codes provide details about the number of residential units, the type of business on a commercial property and the type of crops grown on agricultural lands, e.g., vineyards, orchards, irrigated pasture. There are over 150 unique Tax Assessor use codes for the 7,652 parcels in the District GSA.

Table 1 – Land Use Summary

Use Category	Use Code Type	Total Acres	Total Parcels	Average Parcel Size
1a	Residential < 5 acres	5,866.1	2928	2.0
1b	Residential > 5 acres	7,970.9	949	8.4
2	Commercial	2,586.5	218	11.9
3	Vineyard	49,207.6	1447	34.0
4	Orchard	14,642.8	375	39.0
5	Irrigated pasture	8,947.9	230	38.9
6	Dry Farm / Rangeland	45,980.6	500	92.0
7	Row Crops	5,239.0	151	34.7
8	Livestock	3,683.6	89	41.4
9	Public Agency Property	5,360.1	210	25.5
10	Vacant / No Water Use	2,475.8	534	4.6
11	Golf Course / Park	557.2	21	26.5

Step 2: Estimate Groundwater Pumping Based on Land Use

ENGINEER'S REPORT

To determine the groundwater pumping per parcel on an acre-foot per acre basis, the District assigned an average groundwater demand per acre amount to each land use, as shown in Table 2 - Water Demand By Use Type below:

Table 2 – Water Demand by Use Type

Use Category	Use Code Type	AF/AC
1	Residential 5.0 Acres or Greater	2.5
2	Commercial	2
3	Vineyard	2
4	Orchard	2.8
5	Irrigated Pasture	2.9
8	Livestock	2.5
9	Public Agency Property	2
10	Vacant / No Water Use	0
11	Golf Course / Park	3

The District used the following information for the estimated average groundwater demands per acre per land use:

- Residential parcels less than five (5) acres are considered de minimus pumpers and were excluded from the charge
- Use Category 1 - Residential parcels five (5) acres or greater are assumed to have water usage for the property beyond the residential use. The District performed an aerial image investigation of several parcels that are zoned residential and larger than 5 acres and determined that most of the properties are being used for production agriculture in addition to the residential component. For parcels larger than 5 acres that have a residential use code, the property is assumed to be using water for irrigation and is therefore assigned an average of the irrigated agricultural use of 2.5 AF/AC.
- Use Category 2 – Commercial land use type varies significantly throughout the District including but limited to office buildings, auto sales, grocery stores, industrial, and food processing. The District Engineer reviewed water use estimates for commercial development in planning documents for the local area¹ to determine that 2 AF/AC is a reasonable average estimate of commercial groundwater use.

- Use Categories 3, 4, 5 and 7 - Irrigated Agriculture Demand – The District used agricultural water demand data consistent with the data used for the recent groundwater model developed for the subbasin. The District is one of 16 local agency members of the Eastern San Joaquin Groundwater Authority (GWA). The GWA retained technical consultants (Woodard and Curran) to prepare the Groundwater Sustainability Plan (GSP) for the Eastern San Joaquin Groundwater Basin as required by law. A copy of the Groundwater Sustainability Plan can be found here: <http://www.esjgroundwater.org/Documents/GSP>. As part of this effort, the consultants estimated groundwater pumping for different crops. A Technical Memorandum documenting the data and information used and the analytical tools to develop the agricultural water used can be found here: <http://www.esjgroundwater.org/Portals/0/ESJWRM%20Report%20Appendices%20B%20and%20C.pdf>. Detailed analysis of how the model is formulated and how the estimates of crop water demand is estimated in the model can be found in the IWFM Demand Calculator Theoretical Documentation and User's Manual available for download here: IWFM Demand Calculator \(IDC\) - IDC-2015.0.102 \(released May 18, 2021\) - California Natural Resources Agency Open Data.
- Use Category 8 - Livestock Demand – Throughout the District there are several types of livestock parcels including dairies, poultry farms, and horse ranches. The District Engineer conducted a survey of parcels with use codes for Livestock and determined that many of the parcels are largely used for production of feed including grain and hay. Other parcels are planted in orchards or vineyards and also include a small livestock operation. These parcels are assumed to be using water for irrigation and are therefore assigned an average of the irrigated agricultural use of 2.5 AF/AC.
- Use Category 9 - Public Agency Property – Due to the relatively small number of public agency owners of parcels in the District, the District has requested metered groundwater use data directly from each public agency and will use this data, or other comparable data, to compute the groundwater charge for each parcel owned by a public agency. Public agency parcels may need to be billed directly by the District if they are not receiving a property tax bill from the San Joaquin County Assessor.
- Use Categories 6 and 10 - Vacant, No Water Use, or Non-irrigated Agriculture – Several parcels throughout the District are zoned as Vacant or are parcels with Cell Towers, Roads, Berms and other uses that would not use groundwater. Other parcels are coded as Dry Farming or Grazing. The charge for these parcels will be initially set at zero based on the assumption of no groundwater use. The District may modify the use code and estimated water use for these parcels if investigation reveals a different land use or groundwater use. If this modification occurs, the parcel owner will be notified and the parcel will be charged going forward based on the District estimate of water use or other data presented by the parcel owner if the owner uses the appeal process in Appendix B.

- Use Category 11 - Golf Course / Park – The District Engineer estimated groundwater use for golf courses and parks by using estimates of water use for irrigation of turf gathered from research performed by the University of Riverside, Department of Botany and Plant Sciences found here: https://turfgrass.ucr.edu/reports/topics/trends_in_golf_course_water_use.pdf, the US Golf Association found here: <https://www.usga.org/content/dam/usga/pdf/Water%20Resource%20Center/how-much-water-does-golf-use.pdf> as well as from municipal planning documents. Estimates ranged from 1.9 AF/AC to more than 4 AF/AC based on ETo for grass. Based on this research, an estimate of 3 AF/AC was assumed for Golf Course and Park demand.
- It should be noted that the total estimated water use is higher than and will not match the values estimated in the groundwater model prepared for the GSP. The model uses a basin wide approach and uses tools such as aerial imagery to estimate the actual acreage of various crops to estimate the total groundwater use. Due to the nature of the groundwater charge being applied on a parcel by parcel basis, not every parcel can be accurately accounted for on an individual basis. Therefore, the process utilized to estimate groundwater use on a parcel by parcel basis assumes that the entire parcel utilizing groundwater at the highest estimated use.

If we look at irrigated agriculture for example, it is not likely that every parcel zoned agriculture is using the maximum estimated groundwater. Factors such as plant age, irrigation scheduling methods, farming practices, areas excluded for roads or other non-planted areas, etc. all play a role in individual parcels and how much groundwater is used on individual parcels.

Given the variability of individual parcels, an appeals process was established to allow individual landowners the opportunity to provide parcel specific data to adjust their charge according to the actual groundwater volume used on their property.

Step 3: Adjust for Parcels Using Surface Water

Some parcels in the District use surface water to meet irrigation demand instead of pumping groundwater. The District proportionately adjusted groundwater demand estimates for these parcels based on the following information:

- Landowner survey responses for parcels near the river that provided evidence of using surface water to meet irrigation demand.
- Fifty percent adjustment for parcels in Improvement Districts Nos. 1 and 3 which include parcels that have paid for surface water delivery facilities and are assumed to meet 50% of irrigation demand with surface water because surface water is available for delivery from the District on average 5 out of 10 years.

Step 4: Adjust for Incorrect or New Land Uses

The District performed investigation of some parcels with land use codes of Dry Farm or Grazing and found that the land use codes were incorrect. The District will contact each landowner of these parcels to confirm the use code. For the first year assessment, the District will charge these parcels based on use of 0 acre-foot of groundwater per year. The District will then adjust the charge based on landowner survey responses and District Engineer investigations.

Going forward, the District will update the groundwater charge roll annually to account for any changes in land use based on information available to the District such as changes to the county tax roll use codes, or information obtained through landowner appeals or District staff investigations.

If new land uses develop in the District, the District Engineer will assign a use code and water use estimate for the new land use that is consistent with the principles described above. Thus, groundwater use estimates, and the associated charges, could change over time within the limit of no more than $25 per acre-foot per year.

Step 5: Adjust for Landowner Appeals

The District will establish a process for landowners to appeal the estimated groundwater use for their parcel by submitting evidence to the District on a specified schedule to adjust the groundwater charge. This process is described in Appendix B.

Any parcel owner that believes the District's land use code or groundwater use estimate, for purposes of computing the groundwater charge, is incorrect is encourage to use the Appeal Process described in Appendix B to provide better information to the District.

Appendix B – Landowner Appeal Process

District will obtain updated San Joaquin County Tax Assessor Roll for North San Joaquin Water Conservation District in March of each year, or as soon as it is available.

District will mail a letter to each parcel owner in April of each year stating the estimated groundwater use and charge for their parcel based on the parcel use code information available to the District.

Parcel owner may submit an appeal to the District each year (approximately 30 days after the date the District mails the letters with estimated use) with evidence supporting a requested adjustment to the groundwater charge based a change in land use or measured groundwater pumping data (meter readings and/or data file) submitted under penalty of perjury. Appeals must be submitted on forms provided by the District on the District website. Information submitted by landowners is subject to review and investigation by the District to verify its accuracy.

The District Engineer will review each appeal and make a recommendation to the Board of Directors regarding action on each appeal. The Board of Directors will decide whether or not to accept an appeal in whole or part at a publicly noticed meeting.

If the Board of Directors accepts an appeal in whole or part, the District Engineer will adjust the groundwater charge for the parcel accordingly before submitting the final list of charges for all parcels to the San Joaquin County Tax Assessor to include on the property tax bills.

Information Required for an Appeal:

- Landowner name, address, phone and email
- Parcel APN, physical address, acres, current land use
- If land use has changed, explanation of when the change occurred and the prior and new land use
- Measured groundwater pumping data for at least twelve consecutive months prior to submission of the appeal, irrigation system design and operational data with calculated volumes, documentation of actual irrigated acres, or other data that can be used to determine groundwater pumping volumes.
- Evidence to verify the accuracy of the measured data
- Declaration under penalty of perjury that the submitted information is true and correct
- Consent to share the land use information submitted with the San Joaquin County Assessor for purposes of updating the land use codes in the County parcel database to improve accuracy going forward

The Landowner Appeal form for 2022-23 is currently available and posted on the District website at www.nsjgroundwater.org. The appeal form is due by May 30, 2022, for the 2022-23 charge year.

Notice of Public Hearing of North San Joaquin Water Conservation District Groundwater Sustainability Agency on Proposed Groundwater Charge (Proposition 218 Notification and Hearing Process)

The Board of Directors of the North San Joaquin Water Conservation District Groundwater Sustainability Agency (District) will consider a proposed groundwater charge at a public hearing on June 14, 2022. The public hearing will be held at Jackson Hall, at the Grape Festival Grounds located at 413 E. Lockeford Street, Lodi California 95240 at 2:00pm.

The proposed charges would apply to the use of groundwater on parcels within the District Groundwater Sustainability Agency. You are receiving this notice because your property is subject to the proposed charge based on the last equalized San Joaquin County tax roll. The charges would not affect parcel owners who (1) do not use groundwater unless and until they begin using groundwater in the future, (2) who receive water from the City of Lodi or the Lockeford Community Services District, or (3) own a residential parcel smaller than five (5) acres.

Proposition 218 requires the District provide a written notice by mail of the proposed charge to the record owner of each parcel upon which the charge would be applicable, at least forty-five (45) days prior to holding a public hearing. If the parcel owner opposes the proposed charge, the parcel owner must sign and return a written protest form to oppose the charge. If a parcel owner does not oppose the charge, the parcel owner need not respond.

A protest form is included with this Notice, which includes a list of each landowner's parcels that would be subject to the charge. Each parcel on the protest form shall be counted as one protest. A landowner with multiple parcels has the number of protests equal to the number of parcels owned regardless of the number of acres. If a majority of parcel owners that would be subject to the charge submit written protests the charge will not take effect. The enclosed protest form lists the name and address of the record owners of the parcels owned and has been mailed to the owner's mailing address based on the last equalized tax roll from the San Joaquin County Assessor. Protests shall be made upon forms provided by the District. Protest forms may be returned by mail in the provided envelope or turned in by hand prior to the start of the public hearing. If an additional copy of a protest form is needed, or if a landowner name or address on the protest form is incorrect, please contact MK Election Services by calling 209-259-6740. A parcel owner must sign and return the protest form to the District so that it is received prior to the public hearing in order to be counted.

IMPORTANT NOTE: The Protest Form contains maximum charges based on the land use information contained in the tax assessor's roll, the total parcel acres, and the estimated groundwater use per acre for the land use. The estimated groundwater use may be incorrect. The District will adjust charges if it obtains more accurate information on groundwater use from landowners. Landowners may submit more accurate information for their parcels using the Landowner Appeal Form available on the District website at www.nsjgroundwater.org.

Reasons for the Charge

The state enacted the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act (SGMA) in 2014 to require local agencies to sustainably manage groundwater. The District is working to protect growers rights to pump ground water and serves as the local agency to implement SGMA. The District needs to build and operate groundwater recharge projects, protect existing water rights, and seek additional surface water sources to achieve groundwater sustainability. If the District fails, the State will step in to manage the groundwater basin, charge higher fees, and limit pumping.

The District will use the revenue from the charge to pay for implementing the District's Groundwater Sustainability Plan (GSP) and Strategic Plan to fund groundwater recharge and management activities to achieve groundwater sustainability as required by SGMA. The District's Strategic Plan and the GSP are on the District's website: www.nsjgroundwater.org.

Amount of the Charge

The District proposes to impose the charge on each acre-foot of groundwater pumped or used by each parcel in the District Groundwater Sustainability Agency. The District has estimated the groundwater use for each parcel using land use information from the San Joaquin County tax assessor roll or actual data provided by landowners as described in the Engineer's Report. You can view the Engineer's Report explaining in more detail the reason for the charge, how the charge was developed and how the charge would be implemented, on the district website at: www.nsjgroundwater.org. Estimated or actual groundwater will be adjusted over time based on changes in land use and more accurate information provided by landowners.

The District proposes to impose a charge that may not exceed:

- $15 per acre-foot for fiscal years 2022-23 and 2023-24
- $20 per acre-foot for fiscal years 2024-25 and 2025-26
- $25 per acre-foot for fiscal year 2026-27 and beyond

The District could choose to impose a lower charge in any year but could not impose a higher charge without a new landowner majority protest proceeding if required by law. If a landowner disagrees with the amount of groundwater use the District has estimated for the landowner's parcel, the landowner may submit better information to the District and request the charge be adjusted using the appeal procedure explained in Appendix B of the Engineers Report. The Landowner Appeal Form is also available on the District website: www.nsjgroundwater.org.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Which groundwater basin does the District overlie?

The District is one of 16 agencies that overlies the Eastern San Joaquin Groundwater Subbasin as shown on the map below. The District is the largest agency in the subbasin. The California Department of Water Resources has designated the subbasin as a high priority, critically-overdrafted groundwater basin.

What will the groundwater charge fund?

The charge will fund planning, engineering, design and construction of groundwater recharge projects, required SGMA monitoring, reporting and compliance costs, and operation and maintenance costs for groundwater recharge projects consistent with the District's Strategic Plan, as well as associated administrative and management tasks. Landowners provided input into the Strategic Plan during public workshops and meetings in 2021 and the District's Board of Directors adopted the Strategic Plan in December 2022. The District can only use revenue from the charge for the specific groundwater sustainability purposes that benefit all groundwater users in the District.

What other funding is available to help comply with SGMA?

The District has already secured over $4.6 million in state and federal grants and is in the process of applying for millions in additional grants. Most grants require a 50% local match. The District needs the revenue from the proposed groundwater charge to provide the required local match for grants.

What happens if the charge doesn't pass?

If the proposed charge doesn't pass, the District will not be able to implement the GSP or comply with the new groundwater law passed in 2014 called the Sustainable Groundwater Management Act (SGMA). The State may intervene in areas that do not comply with SGMA and charge its own groundwater fees of $300 per well and $40 per acre-foot of groundwater pumped. The fees that the state collects would not be used to fund local projects. Other local agencies in our subbasin will also challenge the District's failure to take action because the District's failure to comply with SGMA could place the entire subbasin in a probationary status with the state. The District is the largest groundwater user in the subbasin and the only water district in the subbasin without a District-wide revenue source to fund groundwater recharge and management.

Why does the protest form say that my estimated groundwater use and charge is zero?

Some protest forms will include information showing zero estimated groundwater use and a zero proposed charge. Some lands do not use groundwater now, but may use groundwater in the future. For these parcels, the District is proposing a current charge of zero. The charge could be adjusted in the future if the parcel land use changes and groundwater use commences on the parcel. These parcel owners have the right to submit a protest even though they are currently not using groundwater because there is the possibility that they will be charged in the future if they begin using groundwater.

What if my parcel gets water from a joint water system or community well?

The District is working with the County Service Agencies and local mutual water companies to determine which properties receive groundwater from joint water systems. The District proposes to charge the parcel that uses the pumped groundwater even if the water is pumped and delivered through a joint water system or community well. Most parcels served by these joint systems are small residential parcels that are exempt from the charge. However, a small number of non-residential parcels are served by joint systems and would be subject to the District's proposed charge.

Where can I get more information?

The meeting schedule, location and participation information is available on the District's website. The District strongly encourages landowner participation and input.
